

Application Engineer

Agri Drain Corp., a leading manufacturer and distributor of innovative and proprietary agricultural water management products, is interested in adding a highly motivated, technically savvy individual to our sales and engineering team.

This talented representative will perform a variety of tasks including, but not limited to:

- Automatic water management equipment engineering design
  - Control equipment design and programming
  - Wireless RF sensors and Cellular cloud interface tools
  - Solar and Battery system design
- Automatic water management equipment
  - Sales
  - Application support
  - Field installation
  - Service
- Provide technical support and training in person and via phone/email for
  - In-House sales and management staff
  - Contractor and dealer partners

The successful candidate will be detail-oriented and have excellent organizational, problem solving and communications skills. Must be capable of outdoor, physical activity and have a valid driver's license as travel will be required.

Desired Education & Experience:

2- or 4-Year degree in an Engineering discipline, Computer science, or equivalent exp
Computer savvy with Microsoft office tools and web-based platforms
Knowledge of USDA / NRCS conservation practices and programs
Knowledge of agricultural crop production
Knowledge Field drainage system design, installation and survey
Understanding of Industrial controls, PLC, VFD's, HMI's, Programming, etc...
Basic knowledge of IIoT applications and solutions and Solar power

Compensation will be based on personal and professional skills, experience and education, additional benefits include health, short and long-term disability insurance, profit sharing, 401(k), vacation and sick pay. Send Resume or apply in person. Agri Drain Corp. is an equal opportunity employer.

641-742-5211 Phone
877-866-9312 Fax
1462 340th Street · Adair, IA 50002
HR@agridrain.com